Coronavirus COVID-19 & Flu Season, first line of defense! - Peter Daley

In a recent photo of people being evacuated from the quarantined cruise ship in Japan back to the US by plane, it showed people wearing their protective face masks on upside down, and others with no air seal around the nose and mask!

It is very important to have the knowledge on how to use Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) properly, and exercise very good hygiene practices in environments like this. If you do, it will greatly improve your chances of avoiding infection during a pandemic or flu event.

If you are in a country where the numbers of infected people dramatically increase all of a sudden, you could find your everyday life turned upside down. Within a very short period of time large parts of your country, towns or districts, could be placed under quarantine.

This may not happen in your location. Lets hope it doesn't. If it does, having the proper knowledge, skills and equipment on hand will greatly improve your family's chances of avoiding infection. Do research, bookmark, printout, and download instructional information that will provide your family with the necessary knowledge and skills.

Example, lets start with preventing infection, your family's first line of defense!

As the Coronavirus spreads Worldwide large numbers of people are purchasing, goggles, gloves, masks, sanitizers and disinfectants etc.

That maybe a great idea, but next to useless exercise if you don't know how to sanitize, or use the equipment correctly!

The skills provided in the instruction videos below could significantly improve your family member's chances of avoiding infection.

It is better for all the members of your family to practice and master these techniques now, than wait until the last minute. Remember, for this to work, all the family members will need to work together as a well oiled team.

Don't just rely on the information presented here, do more research, as there is much more you will need to know.

Firstly and most importantly keep your hands away from your face!

You think you have been washing you hands correctly all these years? Well sorry to say the vast majority of you haven't been!

Germ Smart - How To Wash Your Hands

I would also suggest that you stop wearing hand jewellery, watches, false nails or nail varnish, plus keep your nails as short a possible. Doing this will significantly improve the effectiveness of using this hand washing technique.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=riApbjnhLfc>

Medical Respirators N95 Fitting Instructions

To get a good seal of a facial mask like this, it will be important for men to remove facial hair.

There are detailed written instructions in the "Show More" description area under the video.

Face Mask vs Respirator Comparison by 3M

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Gdsy\_sZnBZg

Eye Protection

With the potential for COVID-19 to infect through the eyes, it will be important to use whatever eye protection you have available, goggles, wrap around safety glasses, sunglasses, ordinary glasses etc.

Putting on Sterile Gloves

Again, I would also suggest that you also stop wearing hand jewellery, watches, false nails and keep your finger nails as short a possible. These sharp items can puncture the gloves.

Proper Disposable Glove Removal

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=S4gyNAsPCbU>

Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)

Obviously, most of you will not be wearing a full PPE kit. It is still very important to know in what order and how to remove the equipment that you are wearing.

Cleaning and Sanitizing (Food Preparation Areas)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nn07bsfaIkI>

How to Properly Disinfect Surfaces to Kill Germs

This is a commercial product video, I have put it in this list because it provides important information.

Look around your environment for those surfaces that are frequently touched by people. They are the surfaces that will need to be sanitized often. Some surfaces can be damaged by some cleaning and sanitizing chemicals, particularly electronic devices, so do your research first before applying!

Phone Soap Tested on Discovery Channel

With just about everyone addicted to their mobile phone, it would be a very good idea to learn how to sanitize it properly. These devices can be a significant vector in the spread of a contagion. Use speaker phone, texting and avoided placing it on your head or face. Stop using it, or limit its use to absolutely essential calls if possible.

If you touched the outside of the Phone Soap device with your hands as you placed the phone into the device, you will then need to also sanitize the outside of the Phone Soap device, and your hands before removing the phone. There are a number of other phone and tablet sanitizing systems out there that are based on wipes and cloths, that you could research.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-zB73z8B9AQ>

Toilet Seat

Put the toilet lid down before flushing the toilet. This will help contain potential aerosol contaminated water droplets from entering the home, or business environment.

Why Some USB Cables Refuse To Charge Your Phone

A cable is a cable is a cable, right? Not quite. While there shouldn't be any difference from one USB cable over another—it's mostly the protective covering around the cable and a bunch of marketing. Pick the wrong cable, and you might find yourself with a paperweight instead of a fully charged device when you wake up to start your day.

Advice: When you're charging your devices, take a second to confirm they are actually charging. And when you can, check in on them. If they seem to be charging incredibly slowly, consider swapping to a different USB cable or adaptor to see if that's any better.

This is the most basic form of troubleshooting you can do, but it's something that most people don't think much about. We tend to be quick to assume there's an issue with the device being charged, rather than that which you're using to charge it. Try different combinations of cables and adapters, and that might be all the troubleshooting you need when you're staring at something that simply won't turn on.

Jean's Jottings

Rules for Email Etiquette

Watch what you say, and how you say it

Whereas the computer brings people together, its impersonal nature can lead to remarks that people would not think of saying in person. Do whatever it takes to stay courteous, even if that means taping a note to your computer reminding you to be decent and polite.

Human contact still matters

Do not communicate electronically at the expense of personal interaction. There is a reason people often need to discuss things face-to-face, and there are times when no substitute will do – whether you are breaking up with your boyfriend or asking your boss for a raise.

Reply to your emails

Most people at some point have felt swamped by the large number of emails they have to sift through. But replying to an email is good etiquette, especially if the sender is expecting a response. Acknowledging you received the email but will get back to the sender at a later time is a professional alternative to ignoring or avoiding certain emails.

You do not always have to "reply all"

Think about who needs to read your response. No one wants to read an email chain from twenty people that has nothing to do with them.

*****

Keyboard Shortcuts

Using keyboard shortcuts can greatly increase your productivity, reduce repetitive strain, and help keep you focused.

For example, to copy text, you can highlight text (hold down the Shift key and pass the mouse cursor with the left side key held down over the text to copy the text required) then press the Ctrl+C shortcut which will copy the highlighted text to the Clipboard or Snipping Tool if that is operative on your computer.

The keyboard shortcut is faster than highlighting with the mouse as above, and then moving the mouse to Edit on the Menu Bar and from the drop down list choosing to click Copy from the list, and then returning to the keyboard.

The portion copied will be on the Clipboard or Snipping Tool if that is operative on your computer.. Next step is to paste the copied text or graphic to a new place be it a document or e mail etc. This can be done quickly by using the keys Ctrl+V instead of Edit and from the drop down choosing Paste or Paste Special which gives alternatives of how the pasted copy will appear when pasted.

Keyboard short cuts cover un numberable combination of 3337 key strokes that can be used. There are some shortcut keys specific to operating systems – Windows, Linux, Apple, and then within each of these specific to portions of those eg Windows Excel, Word etc Programs such as Firefox, Chrome, Open Office have keyboard shortcuts specific to that program as well as the general Shortcut keys being able to be used everywhere.

It is also possible to create shortcuts specific to a task to be done if there is no available shortcut that is right for your specific task,

Due to the un numberable combination of key strokes it is better to learn a few of the common ones that could speed up what you are doing.

Commonly used shortcuts include:

Shortcut Keys	Description
Ctrl+C	Copy selection
Ctrl+V	Paste selection
Ctrl+Z	Undo last action.
Ctrl+B	Change selected text to be bold.
Ctrl+I	Change selected text to be in italics.
Ctrl+U	Change selected text to be underlined.
Ctrl+X	Cut selected item.
Ctrl+A	Select all text.

Visitors to Club Meetings

The Club thanks those members who bring friends or relatives as visitors to Club meetings to see the amount of help the Club has to offer.

It is important that Members should note the following when bringing visitors to meetings:

- Visitors may attend one (1) meeting to observe and decide if the Club meetings will provide what they expect before they join the Club.
- Visitors are required to sign the attendance sheet and pay four ($4) dollars entry fee.
- It is standard practice for each visitor to be introduced to a nominated member of the Club who will provide the visitor with all the necessary information regarding Club operations and facilities and will answer any questions the visitor may have.
- It is preferred that before joining, visitors make use of their visit to explore what the Club has to offer and then decide if it suits their needs. Visitors will be given an Information Pack and instructions on how to become a member once they have decided to join.
- Club Rules do not permit a refund of membership fees if a member later decides that the Club does not meet their requirements. This Rule is carefully explained to all visitors.

After introduction visitors are free to join the member they came with but are encouraged attend the tutorials or special interest groups, have a cup of tea or coffee and chat to other members of the Club.

Recycling of Used Batteries and Ink Cartridges at Club Meetings

Members can do their bit for the environment by recycling their old batteries and ink cartridges by dropping them off to selected locations. As a service to members the Club will act as a collection point for members who may have only a couple of batteries or ink cartridges that they do not think warrants them going out of their way to a recycling point when they can be dropped off at a Club Meeting.

Only AA, AAA, C, D and 9V sized batteries (rechargeable and non-rechargeable) can be accepted through the Club.

Used or empty laser and ink jet cartridges and toner bottles can be accepted. This includes cartridges used in printers, photocopiers and fax machines.

A container will be available at both Caloundra and Buderim meetings.

NBN Presentation to a Group by Ray Krebbs

Ray Krebbs from NBN gave a presentation to members of the Club at Buderim and Caloundra in Jun 19 and early this month gave follow up presentations to both groups which members would have found informative and interesting. Ray was also able to take questions from members which would have been invaluable to them.

Are you a member of a group or know of a group who would also benefit by a visit and presentation from Ray?

The presentation by Ray is fun and very interactive and goes for approximately 15-20 mins. Plenty of time is then allowed for any questions members may have and covers some critical areas such as -

- Tips to become a Tech Savvy Senior
- How to optimise your Home Internet Set Up
- How to do a Speed Test and are you on the best plan
- Update on the latest scams and staying safe online

If you would like to contact Ray to arrange a presentation would you please contact Jean Lear by telephone to the Club Information Line - 54921005 (Leave a message if the call is not answered) or e mail to – sccc@internode.on.net or see Jean at a meeting to obtain details of how to contact Ray.

Gmail for Keeping Notes

All hail the drafts folder part of Gmail where emails aren't sent but just left in limbo...for eternity. This is a great place to jot down snippets, thoughts, to do lists, ideas, and anything else you want to make a note of temporarily.

Remember that you can get at your drafts from anywhere you've got Gmail installed, so your notes go with you everywhere, and of course you've got Gmail's advanced search features to take advantage of too. You can even attach files to your drafts as well.

Our minds can be hijacked': the tech insiders who fear a smartphone dystopia

Extracts:

He was particularly aware of the allure of Facebook "likes", which he describes as "bright dings of pseudo-pleasure" that can be as hollow as they are seductive. And Rosenstein should know: he was the Facebook engineer who created the "like" button in the first place.

There is growing concern that as well as addicting users, technology is contributing toward so-called "continuous partial attention", severely limiting people's ability to focus, and possibly lowering IQ. One recent study showed that the mere presence of smartphones damages cognitive capacity – even when the device is turned off. "Everyone is distracted," Rosenstein says. "All of the time."

"The technologies we use have turned into compulsions, if not full-fledged addictions," Eyal writes. "It's the impulse to check a message notification. It's the pull to visit YouTube, Facebook, or Twitter for just a few minutes, only to find yourself still tapping and scrolling an hour later." None of this is an accident, he writes. It is all "just as their designers intended"

"Armed with your details, scammers can do things like get a loan or commit fraud in your name, access your bank account and shop using your credit card, lodge tax returns, or steal your superannuation."

Netflix Users Beware

Netflix subscribers are being warned to show caution after a sophisticated phishing scam was discovered.

The scam ironically mimics 3-step verification - a common digital safety feature used to protect sensitive data online – to trick victims into thinking the email is from Netflix.

Victims receive an email purporting to be from the Netflix, which advises them their "billing information has been modified" and must be updated in the next 24 hours, otherwise their account will be suspended.

A hyperlink to Netflix's "online help centre" is included in the body of the email, with unsuspecting victims taken to a fake login page after clicking the link.

Despite extensive efforts to disguise the scam as an official correspondence from Netflix, several red flags to indicate the email isn't authentic. These include several grammar and spelling errors in the email and the lack of Netflix domain missing from the email address which sent the initial email.

The purpose behind the scam is to steal Netflix users' sensitive data, including credit card information.

Huawei can't do Google – just in case you were not perfectly clear

Review: Gadget Guy, Ray Shaw
February 25, 2020

Huawei can't do Google for any phones released after 16 May 2019. The exceptions are very few cases where an existing phone is re-released in substantially the same form in other regions.

Why can't Huawei do Google after 16 May 2019? This is the date that the US government placed Huawei on its Entity List. This government action prohibits all US companies, including Google, from collaborating or trading with Huawei.

Huawei is developing its own operating system called Harmony OS, but that is years from being stable enough for smartphones. In the interim, it is using AOSP (Android Open Source Project) of Android 9, and it is Huawei's responsibility to issue any security patches or updates that it, not Google develops.

Users also can access Huawei Mobile Service that includes the Huawei App Gallery, Huawei Browser and Huawei Assistant. But the lack of local apps like banking, loyalty cards, insurance etc. has cruelled sales in Australia.

Samsung Galaxy Watch Active 2

Review: Gadget Guy, Ray Shaw
February 24, 2020

It would be fair to say that Samsung has taken all the best bits from the Galaxy Watch family and wrapped it up in the Galaxy Watch Active 2.

The Galaxy Watch Active 2 is part of the Samsung wearables family that includes the Galaxy Watch, Watch Active, Fit and Bud

Set Up Easy as – download the Galaxy Wear and Samsung Health App.

At this point, you should explore the Wear app settings. For example, you can select the apps that can use notifications, reorder apps to suit your use, play with widgets, change vibration/volume, and so much more.

One thing you will want to do is search the hundreds of free and paid watch faces to get one that suits you. These are essentially classic, minimalist, trendy, informative, health, time focused and more. Try the free ones first – my favourite is MD111 (see image above) that has Step, Floors, Heart Rate, Calories, Moon phase, date and digital time.

All the main apps are Samsung apps – mail, calendar, contacts, alarm, Gallery etc.

Of course, it supports Facebook, WhatsApp, Twitter, YouTube and more.
