Bits'N'Bytes is produced monthly from February to December each year.

Contributions for the newsletter are always welcome. Please send copy for the next issue to reach the editor as early as possible after the monthly meeting or by the deadline: 18 January 2021

Email: editor@sccc.org.au or Snail Mail: The Editor PO Box 384, Caloundra, Qld 4551.

This magazine is created with OpenOffice and produced in printed form and also electronically in PDF format.

Copyright - material in this newsletter may be copied in other publications provided that copyright rests with the Sunshine Coast Computer Club Inc., This permission is on condition that reference is made to SCCC (with original published date) in the reprinted item.

Liability - Although articles in this newsletter are checked for content, no warranty can be given for any loss resulting from the use of material in the newsletter. Articles and advertisements are printed in good faith and views and opinions are not necessarily those held by the club.

SCCC Privacy Statement - In joining the Sunshine Coast Computer Club please note that it is a club operated by volunteer members and operating within the community involving many activities relating to meetings, instructional and social functions for members and at times visitors.

This requires the keeping of a member data base and the publication of the names of new members. The Club guards the member data base as best as possible and does not publish member's addresses nor telephone numbers unless authorised.

At times photographs are taken at meetings and functions and are sometimes published. Should you have any problems relating to your personal privacy which arises or is likely to arise, it is your duty and responsibility to advise the Club secretary in writing of the circumstances and requirements.

What's on Bulletin - What's On Bulletins are sent once a week, generally on a Monday afternoon, to all members who have provided the Club with their email address. These bulletins give details of up-coming tutorials and topics to be covered at the various meeting venues. You will also find items of interest and club announcements in these bulletins.

Membership Cards

Membership cards for members who have joined or renewed their membership are posted after 20th of each month to the member's address recorded on the Club Data Base.

Members who joined or renewed their membership between 21st October 2020 and 20th November 2020 were posted their new membership cards on 25th November 2020 to the address recorded on the Club Data Base.

Note - Membership cards show the next renewal date of membership.

The SCCC Inc. education centre internet networks are provided as a club service. Downloading of any material that may be in violation of copyright, movies, music or books etc. or pornography is not allowed under the club terms of use of this service.

You as a member sign an agreement with the club that you understand this when you sign in at each meeting.

A notice to this effect is placed at the top of the sign-in sheet.

Monthly Reports

Treasurer's Report

There is no Treasurer's Report this month.

During this time of inactivity there has been minimal change in the financial position of the Club and the Treasurer is using this time to prepare the Club accounts for the auditor to undertake the annual audit for the 2021 Annual General Meeting.

Sunshine Coast Computer Club Inc.
2021 Annual General Meeting

All members are invited to attend this important meeting

If you are unable to attend the meeting there is a Nomination Form and Proxy Form on page 11 in this edition of Bits'N'Bytes.

Show your support by attending this important meeting at 10am Saturday 13 February 2021 at Caloundra Community Hall

Monthly General Meetings of the Sunshine Coast Computer Club Inc.
have been cancelled until further notice.

Due to the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic, your committee cancelled all SCCC activities until further notice.

Activities will resume when safe to do so, following advice from Australian Government and Qld Health. However, ensuring the health, safety and wellbeing of SCCC members is the first priority.

You will be be given plenty of notice when this can happen, watch your emails and read your weekly Bulletin to keep up to date.

Your committee maintains contact and continues to manage SCCC business matters.

Judy Smith
Editor

The position of SCCC Secretary is still vacant

Please contact Jean Lear if you are interested in your club and could help out with taking minutes etc.

Phone 07 5492 1005 (leave a message if no answer)

From The President - President Peter Daley

I know these have been difficult times for everyone, and I hope you are all safe and well.

The committee has been very busy in the background doing everything it can to keep the Club financially viable in this difficult environment, and operating conditions.

The committee would like to sincerely thank all those members who have renewed their membership, and kept faith in the Club. That support has greatly contributed to the Club still being in a sound financial state, even after such a lengthy shut down period.

The committee organized online services like Tech Questions, and video meetings in the interim. We understand that the video meetings are not the same as real life meetings, but were the best technical substitute that was available at the time. We all miss the social interaction and services provided at real life Club meetings.

Insurance Policy
The committee used the lock down period as an opportunity to negotiate a new more cost effective insurance policy. To hire venues Clubs are now required to have in place a public liability policy. Until the new insurance policy was set in place the Club could not open meetings anyway. This negotiation took a couple of months. A new Club insurance policy was finalized last week. This process has saved the Club a significant about of money in yearly running costs.

Sale of no longer required Club equipment:
You will have noticed that in the recent Club Weekly bulletins, a number of pieces of Club equipment has been put up for sale. These items where considered to no longer be required, and rather than have these items collecting dust during the lock down, the committee organized the collection of these items from venues, so they could be put up for sale. You will notice more items for sale, being placed in the Club weekly bulletin's over the coming weeks. Keep an eye out for a bargain.

Re-opening of Club activities in 2021
The committee is aiming to reopen Club venues after Christmas, in January 2021. This is conditional on there being no significant resurgence in the local COVID-19 numbers, or another government lock down. Now that the New South Wales and Victorian COVID-19 waves have died down, it is hoped that members will feel more confident attending meetings.

Keep an eye on future Club Weekly Bulletins for future updates on meeting openings, and other Club activity updates.

Weekly Bulletins to be Sent to Members Who Have Not Renewed Membership Since March 2020
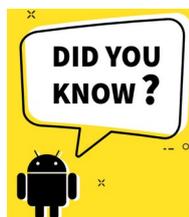

A number of members have not renewed their memberships after the enforced shutdown of the Club earlier this year. Some of the decisions not to renew have been made because there were no meetings to attend as some members have said they would rejoin when meetings resumed. No doubt there were other reasons for members to not renew their memberships since then.

Club membership is valued by the Club so as a goodwill gesture the Club will commence to send the Weekly Bulletin to members who have not renewed memberships since March 2020 until meetings resume.

This will let former members keep up with what the Club is doing in the way of virtual meetings and to share other news.

At any time any of these 2592 members may opt out of receiving the Weekly Bulletin by phoning the Club Information Line - 54921005 – (leave a message if the call is not answered) or sending an email to the Club – sccc@internode.on.net

Some Interesting Facts About Android

Android is a Mobile Operating System which was released on 23, September 2008. Android is free, open-source operating system and is based on modified version of Linux kernel. Open Handset Alliance (OHA) developed the Android and Google commercially sponsored it. It is mainly designed for touchscreen devices such as smartphones and tablets. Android is supported on different platforms like 32- and 64-bit ARM, x86, and x86-64. Android is available in more than 100 languages with Graphical (multi-touch) as the default user interface.

- Initially, Android was developed as an operating system for digital cameras but later on it focuses on Smart Phones

- Android captures 88% of total smart phone market whereas IOS captures 11% market share.

- Even the Google Maps, uses the speed of Android Mobiles to calculate the traffic on roads.

Brief History of the Computer Mouse - Jean Lear

(Information from this website and other sources)

https://www.thoughtco.com/history-of-the-computer-mouse-1991664

A computer mouse is a hand held hardware input device that controls a cursor in a GUI (graphical user interface) and can move and select text, icons, files, and folders on computers. The mouse was initially known as the X-Y Position Indicator for a Display System.

It was technology visionary and inventor Douglas Engelbart (Jan 25 – Jul 13) who revolutionized the way computers worked, turning it from a piece of specialized machinery that only a trained scientist could use to a user-friendly tool that almost anyone can work with. During his lifetime, he invented or contributed to several interactive and user-friendly devices such as the computer mouse, Windows operating system, computer video teleconferencing, hypermedia, groupware, email, the Internet and much more.

Making Computing Less Cumbersome

Most of all, though, he was known for inventing the computer mouse. Engelbart conceived of the rudimentary mouse while attending a conference on computer graphics, where he started thinking about how to improve interactive computing. In the early days of computing, users typed codes and commands to make things happen on monitors. Engelbart thought an easier way was to link the computer's cursor to a device with two wheels—one horizontal and one vertical. Moving the device on a horizontal surface would allow the user to position the cursor on the screen.

Engelbart's collaborator on the mouse project Bill English built a prototype - a hand-held device carved out of wood, with a button on the top. In 1967, Engelbart's company SRI filed for the patent on the mouse, although the paperwork identified it a little differently as "x,y position indicator for a display system." The patent was awarded in 1970.

Computer Mice Hits the Market

Before long, computers designed to work with a mouse were released. Among the first was the Xerox Alto, which went on sale in 1973. A team at the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology in Zurich liked the concept as well and built their own computer system with a mouse called the Lilith computer, sold from 1978 to 1980. Perhaps thinking they were on to something, Xerox soon followed up with the Xerox 8010, which featured a mouse, ethernet networking and e-mail among various innovative technologies that have since become standard.

But it was not until 1983 that the mouse started to go mainstream. It was that year that Microsoft updated the MS-DOS program Microsoft Word to make it mouse-compatible and developed the first PC-compatible mouse. Computer manufacturers such as Apple, Atari and Commodore would all follow suit by debuting mouse compatible systems as well.

(Notes - Although a mouse can be set up for your left hand, some mice are molded for right-hand users and may feel uncomfortable with your left hand.

Because a laptop is designed for portability, almost all laptops today use a touch pad as the mouse, and some Lenovo laptops still use a TrackPoint. Also, all laptop computers can have a USB corded or wireless mouse attached to them.)

Tracking Ball and Other Advancements

Like other present forms of computer technology, the mouse has evolved significantly. In 1972, English developed the "track ball mouse" that allowed users to control the cursor by rotating a ball from a fixed position. One interesting enhancement is technology that enables wireless devices, a fact that makes Engelbart's recollection of an early prototype almost quaint.

When asked who named his most famous invention, Doug Engelbart recalled, "No one can remember. It just looked like a mouse with a tail, and we all called it that.

Some believe that mouse is short for "manually-operated user-select equipment." However, when Douglas Engelbart helped invent the mouse, he called it a mouse because the device resembled the rodent.

When talking about one (singular), refer to a computer mouse as a "mouse." When talking about two or more (plural), refer to them as "mice" (preferred), or "mouses."

To help prevent confusion, some companies and writers avoid using either plural form of a mouse by referring to multiple mice as "mouse devices."

For developments of the various mouse types/models over the years the website below gives more information with illustrations of models over the years.

Your Club Still Needs Help

Your Club needs a secretary and an editor.

A small group of hard-working people contribute their time to running the Sunshine Coast Computer Club.

With Judy's move to Brisbane these positions have become vacant leaving an opportunity for someone else to join the team and help the work.

If you want to see the Computer Club continue and would like to have a say in the future of the Club this is your opportunity.

If you are a financial member of the SCCC all you need is an understanding of Word or Open Office to take minutes etc to fill the Secretary's position.

Please contact Jean Lear if you could do this.

Phone: 5492 1005 (leave a message if no answer)
Email: sccc@sccc.org.au

To fill the position of Editor of Bits'N'Bytes all you need is to be a financial member of the SCCC, have an understanding of Word, Open Office or another suitable program that you are are comfortable with and some interest in writing.

When Judy took over from Heather ten years ago her knowledge of word processing applications was not particularly good (she had joined the Club to learn) but thought she could manage to do the job while Heather was on holidays. Little did she know Heather had no idea of returning to Bits'N'Bytes after her holidays. Now after ten years Judy needs someone else to take over.

The style of Bits'N'Bytes has not changed in recent years and what better time for new ideas. You could change the format, streamline some of the content, reduce the number of pages.

There is a long history to the magazine. For a history of the Sunshine Coast Computer magazine from the first issue of February 1989 when the Club was less than six months old to the present day, see Jean's article in November 2020 Bits'N'Bytes.

https://sccc.org.au/wp-content/uploads/2020/10/10bnbnov2020.pdf

While Judy would not like to see this stop it is not feasible for her to continue now that she is living in Brisbane.

Judy is happy to help and assist with hand over. February 2021 edition will be her last.

Being Editor is interesting, sometimes frustrating but satisfying when you finally see the printed copy.

Why not give it a go???

Bits'N'Bytes Magazine – Hidden Membership Number

Each edition of the Bits'N'Bytes magazine includes a membership number chosen at random and appears as a four figure digit number within the text of the magazine and may be on any page.

If your membership number has 1, 2 or 3 digits it will be shown with leading 0s. The number is placed in the 8672 middle of a sentence like this and is highlighted. (Note - Grey shade of highlighting may not appear on e mail)

If you find your membership number hidden somewhere in one of the pages, contact the Club by email at editor@sccc.org.au or telephone 549210005 to claim your prize of five free tickets in the next Club raffle (when activities resume).

Keeping in Touch with Other Club Members

In accordance with the Club Privacy Policy the Club guards the Members Data Base details as best as possible and does not publish members addresses or telephone numbers unless authorised.

During this time when the Club is not conducting general meetings a member may wish to contact another member but not know their email address. To assist these members, especially those in isolation the Club can offer to assist members to stay in touch.

If a member wishes to contact another member they may:

- Email the Club – sccc@internode.on.net – the name of the member they would like to contact. (If not sure of the surname of the member please explain which meeting both attend, giving the name of the group they partake in – Tutorials, Windows and Microsoft Office group, Windows Hands on Help, Linux, Apple Mac, iPad and iPhone, Android Phones and Tablets - to help the identify the member)

- When identified the member will be sent an email from the Club giving the name of the member who would like to contact them by email.

- If the member wishes to be contacted by the other member – it is entirely up to that member if they want to be contacted - please email back to the Club to give permission for the contact.

The member making the request will then be emailed the reply received from the member they wish to contact.

Pass the word: Hackers are after us all

WE ARE being reminded to take extra precautions with passwords in the lead-up to Christmas as at least $1.8 million was lost to hackers this year.

The government's Australian Digital Health Agency is calling for everyone to beefup their password security.

Even sharing your passwords with family and friends, or using the same passwords for multiple accounts, can put you in the eyes of scammers.

But the biggest password sin is choosing simple, easy to guess passwords. Having weak passwords is comparable to leaving your front door open or leaving your car unlocked. It's an invitation to unauthorised access and cyber compromise.

Verizon's cyber crime report said while 80 per cent of people say they are concerned about their password security, 81 per cent of password breaches involved weak and default passwords.

Scam victim support service IDCARE said the two most common attacks from scammers involve weak and repeated passwords. A common password like 123456 would take less than a second to crack.

The key to a strong password is keeping them unique, changing them every 30 days, and using 14 or more characters."

IDCARE is Australia and New Zealand's national identity and cyber support service. IDCARE have helped thousands of Australian and New Zealand individuals and organisations reduce the harm they experience from the compromise and misuse of their identity information by providing effective response and mitigation.

Watch out for online shopping scams this holiday season

Losses to online shopping scams have increased 42 per cent this year, and Scamwatch is warning Australians to be careful when buying gifts this holiday season.

Scamwatch has received over 12,000 reports of online shopping scams so far this year, with almost $7 million in reported losses.

More people have been shopping online this year due to COVID-19 restrictions and scammers are now targeting people doing their Christmas shopping, including in the Black Friday and Cyber Monday sales.

Scammers create fake websites that look like genuine online stores, offering products at very low prices and victims will either receive a fake item or nothing at all.

They also post fake ads on classified websites, often claiming they are travelling and someone else will deliver the goods, but the item never arrives and the victim can no longer contact the seller.

Losses on classified websites, such as Facebook Marketplace and Gumtree, have increased by 60 per cent this year, to $4.5 million.

Reports of online shopping scams involving consumer goods, such as shoes, phones, computers and toys, continue to be high. But the most common thing people were trying to buy when they were scammed was puppies and other pets.
